Dear 99designs:

I wish to draw to your attention a listing, contest or item which I allege infringes the rights of a third party and to request its removal from the 99designs website.

I state UNDER OATH and acknowledging that any false oath may be subject to PENALTY FOR PERJURY that:

1. I am the owner, or an authorised agent of the owner (“IP Owner”), of certain intellectual property rights detailed below in Item 1 of the Schedule (“IP Rights”);
2. I have reasonable grounds to believe and in good faith allege that the IP Rights have been infringed by the listing, contest or item identified below in Item 2 of the Schedule (“Infringing Item”) and that the IP Owner has not licensed or assigned IP Rights to the alleged infringer or otherwise consented to or authorised the use of the IP Rights;
3. The alleged infringement of the IP Rights is causing the IP Owner to suffer loss or damage or to devalue the IP Rights;
4. Unless the Infringing Item is removed from the 99designs website, the IP Owner will continue to suffer loss or damage or devaluation of the IP Rights;
5. The IP Owner can provide proof that the IP Owner is the owner or licensee of the IP Rights;
6. I consent to 99designs informing the alleged infringer of my claim and providing my email address or some other means by which the alleged infringer can contact me.
